Doors coating

GammaStone panels are also perfectly suited to the coating of internal and external doors. This solution allows aesthetic and structural continuity between the façade (or wall) and the door, offering an incomparable visual effect. Thanks to the large dimensions that our panels can reach, the door will be made with a GammaStone panel with the same identical finish as the façade. Using the specific framing designed by GammaStone to support the panel, the door will be installed in line with the façade. The hinges will be so internal and invisible to the outside, ensuring a very appealing effect.
